School Drive Adds $153.44 To United Fund

Cold, wet weather, greatly reduced the amount of contributions that would have come in to the Greater McKinney United Fund residential drive conducted Monday by school students.

Following is the amount brought in by schools: West Ward, $38.50; Central Ward $32.75; Doty $31.61; East Ward $24.11; North Ward $15.52; South Ward $10.95.

Contributions coming in by mail, plus delayed reports, plus the amount collected by the students, reduces the amount needed to complete the campaign to $846.33.

"We want to thank each student who participated in this drive," said Royal Stephenson and Audie Turentine, co-chairmen of the drive. "as well as the school officials who devoted time and effort in organizing the drive."

In commenting on the overall drive, W. B. Finney, president of the Greater McKinney U. F., stated: "A tremendous amount of time and effort has been spent by many loyal volunteer workers, in order that the essential services of the ten participating agencies supported by the United Fund may continue. On behalf of the United Fund and each of the Organizations which it represents, I want to thank each contributor, as well as those who worked so faithfully on the drive. It is to be hoped that the citizens of McKinney will voluntarily mail in additional contributions, in order that the amount needed will be raised in full."

At noon Friday the club will have luncheon at the First Methodist Church and then go in a body to the pep rally at Caldwell Gym.

Missile Program Discussed By Speaker Rayburn

The fellowship hall of the First Christian Church was filled to capacity Friday noon when Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham was a guest of honor at a joint meeting of the Lions and Rotary Clubs. Representatives from the Jaycees and Kiwanis Club, and a number of other guests heard the Congressman bring a message on conditions of the country at this time.

George Webb, president of the Rotarians, presided over the meeting which was opened with songs led by Gelson Roberts, with Mrs. J. C. Andrews at the piano.

Wilkins Comegys and Roy Roberts were the program committee for the day, the former introducing the speaker.

In his opening remarks he expressed pleasure at the refurbishing of the Veterans Hospital, now in progress.

The Speaker can see no cut in taxes this year, but re-arrangements of same. He stated that Congress had hoped last year to cut taxes, but due to the missile program, along with other major developments, this was not possible.

House Speaker Rayburn dwelt at length upon the missile and thinks the United States can overtake Russia in this development if it commits its best engineers and scientists to a definite program. He is of the opinion that we have as intelligent scientists and engineers as any other nation in the world, but they must have something on which to work if we are to overcome the lead which Russia has assumed.

Mr. Rayburn urges a master plan for what we must do, to cope with the most dangerous period the world has known since the birth of civilization.

He expressed fear for our present civilization, if some grasping power should ever set off the atomic or hydrogen bombs, most powerful weapons of destruction man has ever known. Rayburn said he hopes that fear of self-destruction will prevent a power-mad ruler from setting off such a bomb.

He could not say why the United States lags in missile development but emphasized "we are going to have to work, and work hard to catch up." He also reported that Congress had supplied funds asked for research and study and will continue to give up all the funds needed for this work.

W. S. Nichols Guest Of Plano Rotary Club

W. S. Nichols, administrator of the City-County Hospital here, was guest speaker before the Rotary Club at Plano, Thursday. Mr. Nichols was introduced by John Brodhead, prominent Plano citizen.

The speaker brought a most informative talk, being well received by the Rotarians and guests.

Teachers' Unit Improves School

By H. D. MOUZON

With the improvement of the professional, social and economic status of the classroom teacher as one of its chief aims, the McKinney Classroom Teachers Association, made up of some 85 members of the teaching faculty of local schools, is fast growing into one of the top organizations of its kind in the area. Its influence for the betterment of various phases of the teaching profession is being felt more and more each year by the teachers themselves as well as by the school administration and the patrons of the schools.

Originally a part of the Texas State Teachers Association, the organization was divorced from that group some time ago and is now a department of the National Education Association. Although not officially connected with NSTA, however, the various CTA groups work very closely with the state organization in all matters pertaining to the schools. After all, its members are members of the NSTA and, as such, are vitally interested in its work.

The various local Classroom Teachers units will this year, for the first time, conduct their own state convention. Their growth has been so phenomenal they feel they can no longer hold their state-wide meeting in conjunction with the State Teachers Association as has been the case in past years.

Texas units of CTA have furnished some most outstanding people who have become prominent nationally, among them Miss Waurine Walker of Waco who has served as president of the National Education Association. In addition to this accomplishment, Miss Walker is known far and wide as the author of several books on education.

Numerically, the Texas Classroom Teachers Association is the largest in the entire United States. Units from other states around the country have come to look to Texas with considerable respect when they gather for NEA meetings.

Only those actually engaged in teaching are eligible for membership in the association. This of course excludes administrators, such as superintendents and principals and supervisors, as well as others employed by the school in what might be termed non-teaching positions. It's an organization made up strictly of teachers.

The McKinney CTA is starting its fourth year, having been organized during the 1954-55 school year with the late J. T. Rollins as its first president. Mrs. Royal Stephenson headed the group the following year and Miss Lucille McMurray was president during the 1956-57 year. Ed Luscomb is president of the association this school year.

Purposes of the local CTA as set forth in its constitution include the following:

To work with the school administration and other related agencies for the betterment of schools and the promotion of all constructive movements for the general civic welfare;

To carry on an effective public relations program for the purpose of acquainting the public with the aims, achievements and needs of the school;

To improve the professional, social and economic status of the classroom teacher.

And to encourage teachers to exercise their rights and to assume their duties as citizens.

Officers of the association include a president, first, second and third vice president, a corresponding secretary, a recording secretary, a treasurer, a parliamentarian and an historian. Each affiliating building in the city has a building chairman elected by CTA members teaching in that building. The executive board is made up of all elected officers and the various building chairmen. In addition, the immediate past president is an advisory member of the board.

The association holds regular meetings each six weeks, these meetings being preceded by a meeting of the executive board.

Officers of the McKinney Classroom Teachers Assn. this year are: Mr. Luscomb, president; Mrs. A. J. Press, first vice president; Miss Ruth Dowell, second vice president; Mrs. Lyman D. Robinson, third vice president; Mrs. W. C. Dowdy, recording secretary; Miss Norma Sportsman, corresponding secretary; Miss Elizabeth Watson, treasurer; Mrs. Royal Stephenson, parliamentarian, and Mrs. Lucille Hines, historian. Miss Jeanette Townsend is Sunshine Chairman.

Building chairmen are: Mrs. Melba Davenport, Boyd High School; Mrs. Hines, L. A. Scott Junior High; Mrs. Nell Kargnahan, Fanny Finch School; Mrs. Sibyl Dungan, J. W. Webb School; Mrs. Hazel Chapman, Central School; Mrs. Dudley Harlow, J. L. Greer School; and Miss Carrie Jean Davis, West Ward Elementary School.

Kiwanis Radio Auction Is Successful

Members of the Kiwanis Club are high in their praise of McKinneyites for the wonderful response to their annual radio auction held here Thursday. The sale brought some $1200, which goes into the special fund for underprivileged children and special services.

President Obe McCallum and every Kiwanian worked on the project to "put it over." The merchants of the city were liberal in their donations and the bidding was good throughout the day. Many items sold for more than their original value. Two savings bonds, donated by the local banks brought $25 and $27.50.

In expressing "thanks" to the merchants, Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette, Radio Station KMAE, McKinney, Examiner, and everyone else, the Kiwanis Club especially thanks the Key Club members for their assistance, and the school authorities for excusing them from school to work on the project. Everyone who had any part in this worthwhile event has the appreciation of the Kiwanians.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Riddle and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Drain, of Dallas, were recent guests in the home of Misses Ethel and Rhoda Jones in Blue Ridge.

Monthly Meeting Of C C Directors

By FRANCES STODGILL

President A. H. Eubanks welcomed 17 directors and visitors to the monthly Board meeting of the McKinney Chamber of Commerce here Tuesday afternoon. Those present included Fred McKinney, Choice McClure, Pat Simpson, Charlie Angel, Harry Asimakis, Leroy Richardson, Boyd Williams, J. M. Whisenant, Frank W. Smith, Ramsey Harris, J. C. Andrews, A. H. Witherspoon, Paul Hardin, H. D. Mouzon of the McKinney Examiner, County Farm Agent Virgil Dahlberg and Mrs. Virgil Stodgill of the Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette.

Reports from committee chairmen occupied the business session, with Paul Hardin of the Special Highway 75 Committee announcing plans underway for ribbon-cutting ceremonies of the new Expressway, in the early summer of 1958. A steering committee, headed by Hardin and David McCall of Plano, with representatives from towns along the highway route from Sherman to Richardson, will select the time and place for the ceremony.

Hardin, who heads the soil and water committee, also reported for that group, stating that Collin's Senator Ray Roberts and Representative Bill Dungan have secured the passage of a bill to create a water district, whereby the county can maintain its water rights.

Construction and repairs to Collin highways, were reviewed by Charlie Angel of the transportation committee. A new 20-foot bridge is being constructed on Highway 75, north of McKinney. Five miles of construction has been approved for the Farm Road between Westminster and Desert; and another is to be laid between Copeville and Nevada. The farm road North of Princeton and Climax is undergoing repairs.

On December 4 Chairman Angel Manager Simpson and members of the Collin County Commissioners Court, will join Bonham Commissioners and CC officials for a hearing before the State Highway Commission in Austin, in the interest of completing Highway 121 from Melissa to Bonham. It was announced that Collin County is in a position to buy the right-of-way without an increase in taxes from a point South of Melissa, to Trenton.

The CC went on record at this time as favoring continuation of Highway 121.

Chairman J. M. Whisenant of the Industrial Foundation, announced that the drive, which got underway last week, was moving slowly, and he urged workers to get their cards to him as soon as possible.

Boyd Williams, chairman of the Industrial committee, stressed the importance of the Industrial Foundation as a means of bringing industry to this area. He also reviewed recent contacts with companies which have shown an interest in McKinney as a possible site. One new business has been opened here this week by Ben Garrison, who completely stocks notion counters for drug and grocery stores. He employs about 20 persons in operating the business which is located in the old Paris Grocery Company building on East Louisiana Street.

President Eubanks praised Miss Madeline Moses of the membership committee for the 75 new members which she has enrolled within the past nine months. The CC now boasts 105 new members. The Thippen Drive-In Grocery on the South Expressway was the 100th member this year.

EXPER. STATION DEVELOPED SMALL GRAIN VARIETIES ADD TO TEX. FARM INCOME.
Plant breeders of the Texas Agricultural Experiment station have for many years been developing and releasing improved varieties of small grains for use in Texas. These varieties have enabled Texas producers to increase both their grain and forage production from small grain crops.

The value of these new varieties to the agricultural economy of Texas is shown by a recent survey made by Extension Agronomist R. J. Hodges and Dr. L. M. Atkins, agronomist in charge of small grains for the Experiment Station. County agents reported to the agronomists that 70.5 percent of the Texas wheat acreage last year was planted to such improved varieties as Comanche, Wichita, Westar, Concho and Quana. Only 3.3 percent of the acreage was seeded to the blackball group which is less desirable from a quality standpoint, but was once very popular in the state.

Hodges points out that a new variety is only of value when used by farmers. As an example of the value of a new variety, he says $59,000 acres last year were planted to Westar. For several years this variety, at Amarillo and Chillicothe, outyielded the once popular Turkey variety by at least two bushels an acre. This variety alone was responsible for increasing the total wheat yield in Texas last year by more than a million bushels.

Three Experiment Station oat variety releases, New Nortex in 1936, Mustang in 1950 and Alamo in 1954, accounted for more than half of last year's oat acreage of almost 3 million acres. These varieties were developed especially for Texas conditions and have resulted in both increased grain and forage yields. At Tyler each dollar spent to produce oat grazing returned a net of $3.75 or $4.4 an acre.

Cordova barley, released a few years ago, occupied 49 percent of the 370,334 acres seeded to barley in Texas last year. It has outyielded Tennessee Winter by an average of 8.1 bushels an acre. Goliad, a variety developed for south Texas conditions, is disease resistant and a heavy forage producer. When not injured by late winter freezes, it also produces good grain yields. Hodges says the plant breeders are working continuously to develop even better varieties in order to meet the needs of an ever-changing agriculture.

NEWS FROM THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS — of — THE COLLIN CO. SOIL CONSERVATION DIST.

*King Ranch Bluestem has produced 682 bales of seed hay on the K. O. Merriman farm east of Melissa. W. L. Carroll, operator of the Merriman farm, harvested this 7 acre field which yielded approximately 2 1/2 tons of hay per acre. Carroll plans to use this hay in establishing additional pasture to KR next spring.

*Leon Hobson of the Danville Community has combined approximately 30 acres of KR on the M. A. Anderson farm and 3 acres for Hansford Ray, Gordon Morgan near Frisco has harvested over 100 acres on the C. J. Simpson farm. Others that have harvested or plan to harvest are Joe Clark, M. C. Martin, T. M. Ranch, Stanley Shipman, and A. D. Graves.

*Local interest in grass seed harvesting this fall has been brought about by a favorable growing season. Pasture grasses of all kinds have not only made a good vegetative growth this year, but have set the best seed crop in several years. The drought years have resulted in a scarcity of seed, making it difficult for many to plant pastures on land needing a grass cover.

*Most of the interest in the Collin Soil Conservation District has been on the harvest of King Ranch Bluestem seed. The major part of the seed is being harvested with a grain combine. Some of the smaller acreages are being mowed and baled and this seed hay will later be scattered where new plantings are desired.

*In caring for the green seed after harvest, the trashy material as it comes from the combine must be dried. Spreading and drying on a wood floor or porous canvas is best, since concrete sweats.

*The quality of seed depends on the amount of pure live seed found through a seed test. When buying through most seed dealers, the price per pound is dependent on the amount of pure live seed found in the test. The average purity of KR seed is around 25 percent and final germination around 50 percent. In computing the amount of pure live seed, the percent purity is multiplied by the percent germination. For the most accurate results, the seed test should be delayed at least 60 days after

Sen. Yarborough Speaks Before Local Groups

Texas Junior Democratic Senator, Ralph Yarborough, was honored by local organizations here Monday afternoon and night. Accompanied by Mrs. Yarborough, and several local friends, the Senator spoke before the student body of Anna High School at 2:30 p.m. He was introduced by Mayor M. L. Vermillion. His discussion of the Satellite launching by Russia was the theme of his address, and in closing he urged the students to seek a high education, upon completion of their high school work.

Returning to McKinney Senator and Mrs. Yarborough were shown through the Veterans Hospital by Kenneth O'Brien, assistant manager. He expressed a desire to do everything possible to maintain the hospital and keep it permanent, as well as offering his services for the veterans of the United States. He was pleased with major repairs which are now in progress at the institution, and praised the directing heads and employees working there for their unselfish service to the patients.

At 5 o'clock a coffee was held for the visiting couple at the Town House, where friends called for an informal visit with them.

The Collin County Livestock Association, at their annual barbecue Monday evening, held in the Woman's Building on the Fair Grounds at 6:30 o'clock, honored Senator and Mrs. Yarborough. Dr. T. R. Leen gave the invocation. At this time he spoke to the group, being introduced by Representative Bill Dungan.

"The greatest possible service Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson could perform for the American farmers and ranchers would be to resign," he declared. Describing Benson as the "first Secretary of Agriculture in American history who is against the farmers and ranchers' interest," Yarborough urged Benson to "follow the example of George Humphreys, Charlie Wilson, and Herbert Brownell and depart."

The Senator said further: "Seven years drought followed by floods and Benson's blundering farm program, which has cut farm income while the cost of living has increased, have been more than many farmers and ranchers could stand."

"Some of our rangeland is getting back in shape and we're getting some subsoil moisture where we might raise some crops in the future."

"If Benson would clear out with his baggage, retainers and yes-men, the farm and ranch picture would be much brighter," Yarborough noted in his report to the Collin County Purebred Livestock Association members.

At 8 o'clock Senator Yarborough brought his day's activities to a close with an address to the general public in the district court room. A large crowd was present, with visitors from several North Texas counties attending.

Rev. Alvin O. Rue, local Presbyterian minister, opening the program with a fervent prayer and led the group in singing "America."

Ted Sisco, local attorney and staunch supporter of the Senator, presided over the program, presenting J. A. (Abe) Gearhart of Celina, who in turn introduced the eminent speaker.

Problems facing our country were discussed, in which he stressed the need for more training in science and higher mathematics in our schools. He compared the educational system in Russia with ours, in urging more of these subjects in our own schools.

Senator Yarborough is one of several Democratic Senators sponsoring a bill which would set up a fund to educate any student passing his grade and aptitude tests.

Native Collinite Celebrates 95th Birthday Anniversary

JAMES JEFFERSON MCKINNEY at age of 20

MCKINNEY ON 95TH BIRTHDAY

A native Collin son recently celebrated his 95th birthday in San Angelo where he now resides with Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Pruitt, 810 E. 21st Street. The party was held at the home of A. C. Pinkston, honoring James Jefferson (Pony) McKinney. Friends called between 2 and 5 o'clock.

Mr. McKinney was born in Collin County October 25, 1862 in the settlement now known as Blue Ridge. He was the son of Samuel Jefferson and Virginia McKinney and was born during the Civil War, while his father was away from home fighting with the Confederate Army.

The son was only five years of age when he started to school, in a little log cabin with split log benches and a dirt floor, riding horseback behind his father who was the teacher. The boy grew to manhood, receiving his education in the little country school, where many of the subjects, now taught in colleges, were his studies. At the age of 20 James began teaching at Rock Rest School, located three or four miles East of McKinney. He received a salary of $40 per month, and boarded with the Wilson family in that community for $9 per month.

His second school was at Johnson School House on Sister Grove, twelve miles East of McKinney. This was in the Fall of 1883. The young teacher received a salary of $50 per month, and resided in the Allen Mantoath home during the school year.

In 1884 he taught at Moreland, near Blue Ridge, and in 1885 was at Red Oak, also in that section of Collin County. He taught at the latter place for 13 terms.

All in all he spent 32 years in the teaching profession. One of his early teachers at Blue Ridge was the late Prof. J. Polk Hipp from Kentucky, considered a great scholar and mathematician. Some of the subjects which Young McKinney learned while attending the little log school were advanced arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry and Trigonometry, as well as Literature and History.

Mr. McKinney was married to Miss Zura Jane Cantrell, to which union six sons and one daughter were born. The family was a busy one, their chores including running the country store and post office on the Divide, North of Water Valley, farming and ranching. Mr. McKinney, as well as teaching, was postmaster at Divide. His wife, a daughter, and two sons, have died. Those still living are Charles McKinney of Dallas; Lester McKinney of Amarillo; Royce McKinney of San Angelo and Bernie McKinney of El Paso. He has a host of grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren.

Mr. McKinney recalls many incidents of the bitter reconstruction days, during this childhood. On one instance, armed military men from Pilot Grove rode up and demanded Simp Dixon. They searched the house, and returned a number of times. Mrs. Clary Griffith Dixon lived at Blue Ridge. She was the stepmother of General Dixon, cousin of Simp Dixon, and was a sister of Mrs. Sam McKinney, mother of James Jefferson.

The whole area in and around Blue Ridge was terrorized by the Peacock-Boren gang during the years after the war.

The McKinney homeplace was a mile West of The Ridge, on a hill and was widely known as McKinney Hill. It was considered a hard pan for a team with a load of cotton.

Right after the war three young men by the names of Myers, Bergerhouser and Pace, put up a log store in the settlement. One of these young merchants is said to have been the originator of the name Blue Ridge for the settlement. The reason, it was easily seen from a distance and had long before been called The Ridge.

It was in 1870 that the old log school which James McKinney attended, was moved to Blue Ridge and dressed up with a new floor. It was used for the next nine years before being torn down and a new building constructed.

Mr. McKinney has lived in San Angelo since 1950. He has given up most of his reading in recent years, due to failing eyesight, but his mind is keen and he is well abreast of the times. He enjoys games of dominoes with his friends, and attends Sunday school every Sunday afternoon.

It may be interesting to note that Mr. McKinney, a distant relative of the late Collin McKinney, for whom our county and county seat were named, was born the year of Collin McKinney's death. He also has many relatives still residing in this county.

LIONS GIRL FOR GAINESVILLE FRIDAY

Highlights And Sidelights Of Friday's Game

By FRED DICKINSON

The Lions turned on the power in this one with a little assist from the weatherman and a couple of penalty breaks could have made the score a lot bigger.

The field at Mount Pleasant was not sloppy, although a lot of the area outside the field on the sidelines was standing in water. But, the turf was soggy and made it rough on any type of outside running game.

It was the warmest night of the past several weeks—but the McKinney folks who made the long trek to East Texas and there was a tremendous crowd of them—ran into something new in a weather way on the road home. They found the highway enshrouded in fog and patches of fog as far as Farmersville. This made it slow going.

There was no wind during the game.

The Lions showed up in their white uniforms with the blue numerals and came out for the first time in white helmets with a blue stripe. The McKinney power generated in that first touchdown drive was awesome. The Mount Pleasant line started out rough and ready but that drive wore them down. The Lions held the ball for more than eight minutes. Robert Joplin mixed his plays well on this drive, twice resorting to the running pass and carrying the ball himself on occasion.

In fact, the McKinney quarterbacks, Joplin and Jerry Kruse, both juggled the ball consistently, and with very good results. Kruse had the hard luck to have a touchdown called back in the second quarter. He intercepted a pass on the Tiger 40 and tore out down the sidelines all the way to a score, but one of the Lions was caught clipping and the ball wound up in the Lions' possession on the Mount Pleasant 35. That must have angered the local chargers a little for they came right back to score in two plays. They got another bad break on the second half kick-off. Charles McEntire bolted out the middle of the field through a wide lane opened by some excellent blocking and rammed all the way from the McKinney 25 to the Tiger 11, a fine 64-yard run that went for naught when the Lions were again caught in the act of clipping setting the ball back to the Mount Pleasant 45. This drive took a little longer than the second one; the rampaging Lions used up three plays in shoving the hoghide over the goal.

Band performances at the half were very, very good. The McKinney band put on a fine show including some exceptionally good baton twirling by Linda Hackney. The Mount Pleasant band really showed off their ability to march. They did close order drill well enough to rival the Texas Aggie band or a crack Marine marching outfit.

Prior to the game, the Tiger boosters, a male outfit something on the order of the local Quarterback Club, formed a long line for the Tigers and their cheerleaders. A big paper hoop at the end of this line read "Tigers beat McKinney." The home team had to come through the hoop to get on the field.

So, after four weeks of bad weather and rough and tumble football the district is right back where it was one year ago when McKinney lost that never-to-be-forgotten thriller to Gainesville and the right to play in the state race.

It has been twenty-one years since the Lions were in the playoffs. There are a lot of seniors on this team who have fought the football war of this district for four solid years. It's been a long long drouth.

Now we come to the showdown. The battle is joined and the fruits of victory go to the winner. The Leopards will be ready. The biggest crowd that ever followed a high school team 60 miles in the state of Texas will be there to root for their Lions.

It is our fond hope that Coach Joe Simpson can grin next Friday night the way he did when he walked into the Alps Cafe, with his boys, last night.

Allen Boy Elected Captain Of AC Basketball Team

Chester Story, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Story of Allen, has been named captain of the Austin College basketball team for the second year.

Story, stellar athlete at Allen High School for four years, is in his junior year at the Sherman school.

While in high school he was an all-district performer in three sports, basketball, baseball and football.

Sulphur Springs Boy Recovers From Football Injuries

Harlan Harrod, of Sulphur Springs, is able to be up and back in school, after several weeks' hospitalization, due to injuries sustained in the McKinney-Sulphur Springs football game here. Harrod, member of the team, was painfully hurt, being hospitalized here for a short time before being transferred to the Sulphur Springs hospital.

Local fans will be pleased to learn that he is now recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Wharton were in Kermit last week where they were called by the death of his brother, Wesley Wharton, county commissioner there for 20 years.

By NORMAN SCOTT

The stage is set for the "show-down battle" for the District 6-AAA title.

The McKinney High Lions journey to Gainesville Friday night for the important clash with the Leopards and one of the largest crowds in the history of North Texas football is anticipated for the tilt.

The Lions walloped Mt. Pleasant, 26-0, and the Leopards edged Greenville, 13-7, in last week's action, to bring about the showdown. In the other district game last week, Paris and Sulphur Springs battled to a 6-6 stalemate.

Coach Joe Simpson's McKinney eleven shows a (7-1-1) season record and a (4-0) mark in district play, while Gainesville has a (5-2-1) record for the season and a (3-0-1) figure in conference action. The Lions need a tie or victory for the championship but a Leopard win would put the Gainesville crew in the state playoffs.

As the important encounter approaches, McKinney with their (7-1-1) and (4-0) records, holds the top spot for season and district play. The Lions are also the top offensive eleven with 163 points, plus holding the best defensive record of giving up only 46 points in nine games over the full season route. Their defensive showing is one of the best in the state in AAA, and is expected to be a big factor in the outcome of the game Friday night with the Leopards.

In other district games this week, Greenville goes to Paris, and Sulphur Springs invades Mt. Pleasant.

Anna Defeats Frisco In District Game

The Anna Coyotes pulled the upset of the year in District 12-B Friday night by up-ending Frisco, beaten only once previously in conference play.

The Coons were evidently down a bit after that initial district loss last week to Royce City and Anna took quick advantage of that factor. The Coyotes scored once in each of the first two periods and held on for a 12-6 victory.

Anna scored the first time it got the ball, with a 30-yard punt return by C. D. Cave setting the Coyotes up in business on the Coon 13. J. D. Rollins got the six points on a quarterback sneak from the one but Billy Rollins' conversion try was blocked.

In the second, an exchange of fumbles gave Anna the ball on its own 30. Avery Scribner ran 30 yards and Royce Shaw 20 to put the ball inside the five. Shaw got the touchdown from the one. A pass from J. D. Rollins to Shaw was good for the extra point but it was rubbed out by an offside penalty and the second try was no good.

The rugged Anna defense held Frisco at bay except for one play. Harold Sothermaster raced 70 yards with a punt in the fourth quarter for the Coons' only score. Anna held after Frisco recovered the ball on an onside kick and the Coyotes drove to the one-foot line when the final gun sounded.

Coach Sam Barnes said his Anna team played its best game of the season. Six seniors played their final game—Billy Beaumont, Raymond Nalls, Barty Morgan, Royce Shaw, Avery Scribner, and C. D. Cave. Another senior, Jack O'Neal was unable to play because of an injury.

Mrs. J. J. Nash, Lake Dallas, is improving at the City-County Hospital here where she underwent surgery. Her sister, Mrs. Henry Schuler of Fort Worth is attending her bed side.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barnett and Mrs. Valera Barnett, of McKinney, visited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Short in Blue Ridge.

McKinney Defeats Mt. Pleasant Friday Night By Score Of 26-0

By NORMAN SCOTT

The McKinney Lions, scoring a touchdown in each quarter, roared to a 26-0 victory over the Mt. Pleasant Tigers at Mt. Pleasant Friday night in a District 6-AAA tilt.

Four different players, quarterbacks Robert Joplin and Jerry Kruse, halfback Charlie McEntire and fullback Tommy Crutcher, figured in the scoring with McEntire also adding the two conversions.

LIONS MARCH 70 YDS.

The Lions marched 70 yards for their opening touchdown the first time that they had possession of the pigskin. After kicking off to the Tigers, the Lions stopped the Tigers in the first series of plays and McEntire returned Thomas Hockaday's punt to the McKinney 30 to get the drive underway. Crutcher, McEntire, C. W. Williams, and Joplin alternated on the ground, with two pass completions from Joplin to McEntire for 10 and 7 yards sandwiched in between, in the 22-play, time-consuming opening offensive outburst. Joplin, on a quarterback sneak, carried over from 1-yard out for the score. McEntire's placement kick was good and the Lions were on their way again with 1:58 remaining in the first period.

TIGERS ONLY THREAT.

The Tigers threatened for their only time of the night with about 5 minutes left in the second period but a determined defensive stand by the Lions on their 15 repulsed the Mt. Pleasant eleven. A 48-yard aerial from quarterback Danny Richardson to Hockaday to the McKinney 25 set up the threat but after picking up 9 in two tries to the 16, the Lion forward wall stopped the Tigers cold on the next two carries and took over just outside the 15. The Lions moved out to their 24 in three plays and McEntire, with a nice 47-yard boot to the Tiger 31, kicked out of danger.

McENTIRE TO WILLIAMS.

The McKinney crew had their second touchdown of the night shortly thereafter. Jerry Kruse, corner linebacker on the right side, intercepted a Clifton Laird aerial around the Tiger 43 and scampered over untouched but a questionable clipping penalty against the Lions on the 20 rubbed out the score and placed the ball on the 35. The Lions had the TD in two plays with a beautiful 31-yard pass gain from McEntire to Williams to the Tiger 4 setting up Crutcher's blast over right tackle for the six-point. McEntire's placement was wide to the left, and the half ended with the Lions holding a 13-0 margin.

McENTIRE RETURNS PUNT.

McEntire got the Lions' scoring machine in high gear again when he tucked in the second-half kick-off on his 24, found himself in the clear around midfield, cut back slightly to the right and turned on the gas only to be overhauled on a desperation shoe-string tackle by Richardson on the Tiger 12. Again a clipping penalty was called on McKinney that moved the football back to the Tiger 45. Evidently this aroused the Lions again, and in 9 plays, they had their third touchdown. McEntire and Williams pushed to the 24, and the Lions' bread-and-butter pass worked again, with McEntire on the receiving end this time—Joplin pitched back to Williams who connected with the hustling Lion Tri-Captain for 15 to the 9. After Williams failed to gain at left tackle, reserve fullback Robert Gracy hit the same spot for 3 to the 6. Joplin rolled out to pass but elected to run instead for a 5-yard gain to the 1. McEntire bombarded right tackle for the TD with 8:34 remaining in the third. McEntire again converted.

TIGERS TRY SPREAD.

After the ensuing kick-off which the Tigers returned to their 30, they changed to the spread after moving to the Lion 48 with a 15-yard personal foul infraction against the Lions helping the cause. Middle guard Ben Prior, Joplin, and end Don Wharton had the answer "to the spread business" as Prior broke through and spilled Richardson for a yard loss after assisting Wharton and Joplin in stopping Hockaday on the first try.

WHARTON BLOCKS PUNT.

After an exchange of punts early in the final stanza, the Tigers had possession on their 22 from where three passes were incomplete. Hockaday dropped back to kick but Wharton broke through and blocked the attempt with Prior covering on the Tigers' 15 to pave the way for the Lions' final score of the night. Williams and Bob Byrd pushed to the 2 and Kruse sneaked across from there with 7:55 left in the game. Wharton's P.A.T. try was blocked by John Hendricks.

The Lions had another touchdown cabled back late in the third when Joplin passed to halfback Kenneth Locke on a 30-yard maneuver. The officials ruled that Joplin's knee touched ground on the Tiger 33 before he cut loose with the aerial.

LION DEFENSE STOUT.

The Lions' defense was air-tight again, allowing the Tigers only one first down in each of the first three quarters. The Tigers finally managed to pick up four firsts in the final period against the McKinney reserves. Prior, the aggressive sophomore, at middle guard, turned in a brilliant performance with a lot of assistance from ends Wharton and Jerry Miller, and linebackers Kruse, Joplin, and Locke. Joe Riddle also looked good, in relief of Prior, in the middle of the line, along with tackles Charlie Powell, Charles Carrell, and Edward Dowell. Williams and McEntire took care of their defensive halfback posts in dependable fashion. Hendricks, at a linebacker spot, was the Tiger defensive standout, along with Richardson in the secondary.

OFFENSIVE STARS.

McEntire was again the Lions' top offensive weapon as the hard-running junior picked up considerable yardage behind the consistent Lion forward wall. McEntire added a 37-yard scamper to his 64-yard dash with the second-half kick-off for the offensive highlights of the game along with his completed aerial to Williams for 31 steps that set up the second TD. Hockaday was the best Tiger ball-toter but was bottled up most of the night by the stout Lion defense. The Lions showed 204 on the ground and 63 passing on 4 completions in 9 attempts for 17 first downs, while the Tigers picked up only 89 via the ground route, mostly in the fourth quarter against Lion reserves, and 56 in the air on 3 completions in 11 tries for 7 firsts.

LEOPARDS NEXT.

The victory was the Lions' fourth straight in district play and they will journey to Gainesville next Friday for a show-down battle for the district title with the Leopards, who defeated Greenville, 13-7 last night to set the stage for next week's affair.

In addition to the students from Texas, two of the instructors at American's new college also claim the state as their home. They are Miss Robley Banker and Miss Jo Denton.

The entire student body will arrive at Amon Carter Field from Chicago at 11:30 a.m., November 21, to attend the college dedication ceremonies that afternoon.

Highlight of the ceremonies will be a speech of welcome by the Honorable Sam Rayburn, Speaker of the House of Representatives. Dallas Mayor R. L. Thornton, Jr., and Fort Worth Mayor Thomas McCann will also speak.

This Is Book Week At Memorial Public Library

Once again the nation turns to the commemoration of Book Week, November 17-23. The Librarians of the Memorial Public Library wish to extend an invitation to all friends and patrons to visit the Library, and as this year's motto says, "Explore with books."

McKinney has just reasons to be proud of the Library located at the corner of Benge and Louisiana streets. The building and collection it houses is a far cry from the Library's small beginning in a single room over a drug store and its small collection of books. From this room the Library was moved to a room in the court house on the third floor, then to the basement of the court house. When this space was no longer available, the Library was moved to a rented building just off the square. Then the late Mrs. Mary E. Boyd willed her home to the Library, and later, when it was necessary to find a permanent home for our books, Mrs. Boyd's home was sold so that the present building could be purchased. This was accomplished by the aid of the Chamber of Commerce and other interested citizens.

When the Library was first opened, it was kept by different members of the City Federation. Dues of one dollar a year were charged to each patron. These dues and gifts maintained the Library and collection. Many ways and means were devised to raise funds to keep the Library in operation. Upon the death of Mrs. Boyd and the acquisition of her home by the Library, a Library Board was formed. This Board consisted of Miss Bessie Heard, president; Mrs. J. P. Harding, Wilkins Combs, Hon. John Reese and Mrs. H. A. Finch, Jr.

On November 11, 1948, the Library was dedicated to the memory of the men of McKinney and Collin County who gave their lives in World Wars I and II. Henceforth, it was known as The Memorial Public Library of McKinney. Two bronze plaques adorn the wall at the entrance on Louisiana Street—one in memory of Mrs. Boyd for her generosity in helping the Library and one for the war dead. The Library now has a special reading room called "The Memorial Room," two non-fiction rooms, a children's room, a fiction room, a workroom, a kitchen and a store room.

In 1921 the Library became a tax supported institution so that membership is free to all citizens of McKinney and Collin County. Each day many people take advantage of this free opportunity for reading pleasure and gaining knowledge at the Library. If you have never been to the Library, come by this week, National Book Week, and take out a membership card so that you too may take advantage of this public service. The Library is open Monday-Saturday from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

Chamber of Commerce ... CORNER

By PAT SIMPSON
Manager

For continued growth, McKinney needs more housing. This is proved to us here at the Chamber of Commerce office daily. We are having four to five families a day contacting us for a place to live. As far as we can learn, rent houses are scarce and are vacant only a day or two at a time.

This condition is wholesome to a certain degree in that property does not stand idle and at a loss to the owners, but it is a disadvantage to our community if people are not coming to McKinney because they cannot find a place to live.

The need, as we see it, is for homes to rent to people in the average income bracket. These people can pay rental of from $50 to $100 per month, but they want a fairly nice home. This type house for rent is very limited in our community and we will hazard a prediction that we could increase our population by 500 families in 1958 if homes could be found.

We do have several builders of homes for sale and we notice these are occupied soon after completion. Of course the home owner is the better citizen for a community on the average because he will have an investment. He will be more interested in the community and chances are he will be more permanent. But many people do have the down payment for a home.

We are not trying to discourage the building of homes for sale. Let's have more! But, won't someone please build 500 new houses and rent them to good red-blooded Americans who want to live in McKinney?

Seventy-two people have been working this week and will be for the next several days on the Industrial Foundation. One literary club—the Sesame Club—has sent in a check for $50.00 for one share in the Industrial Foundation. If the ladies of our town take this much interest in industrial development, it is bound to go over. One other worker, whose business firm had made a substantial pledge to take shares in the Foundation, left his check for a share, stating he could not sell anything he was not sold on himself.

A lady sent in a donation to the United Fund—$9.00, all in dimes! Can you just imagine this little old lady saving her dimes this long to help someone else?

Miss Hight Is Honored At Luncheon

Miss Hattie Hight is one of three Dallas secretaries honored at a reception and luncheon Saturday at the Cipango Club. Miss Hight has attained the rank of Certified Professional Secretary, receiving her certificate from Dr. Ruth I. Anderson, member of the Institute of Certifying Secretaries and of the school of business staff, North Texas State College, Denton.

Miss Hight is a McKinney reared girl, having graduated from Boyd High School, where she held a high scholastic record. Her host of friends here will be pleased to learn of her outstanding record in the secretarial field.

Mrs. Lee Burgess fell at her home on South Parker Street Saturday afternoon, breaking her left wrist. She is improving nicely, though the injury was quite painful.

Play Presented By Edelweiss Club Members

Mrs. Jake Dyer was hostess to the Edelweiss Club Friday afternoon, November 16, at her home, 303 South Waddill Street. Thirteen members were present as Mrs. Frank Martin conducted the business session. A book exchange was held and Mrs. Robert Williams read several letters. One was from Rev. Findley Graham, thinking the Edelweiss Club for the hospitality shown at the recent program they presented. Another was from the district projects asking the Edelweiss club to consider a project for the benefit of the Oriental Scholarship Fund. The club was also invited to attend groundbreaking ceremonies for the new McKinney High School, November 18.

Every year or so, the Edelweiss Club includes a play as one of its programs. Friday afternoon they presented one which had been postponed because of illness and absence from town. The play was called "Roots and Strings," written by Durham Twins, and published by the Hogg Foundation for Mental Hygiene at the University of Texas. The play was written to illustrate some of the situations which can confront anyone, and in a very clever way showed a real insight into the problems which develop when sickness or accident strike the old, as well as tragedy when it comes to the younger person.

The "Edelweiss Players" tackled this ticklish subject with their usual ability and enthusiasm, and merrily plowed through the long script, with the entire cast receiving acclaim for its acting. Mrs. Theodore Leen, in her role as the selfish daughter-in-law "Pam" was a joy to listen to, as were Mrs.

Lyman Robinson as the casual "Robert Ransom"; Mrs. U. S. Arrington as the indomitable "Mom," and Mrs. Buzz Witherspoon quietly doing a nice job as Pam Ransom's intimidated husband. Mrs. Robert Williams gave a good reading of Adelaide Purvis, sister of the Ransom boys and a bewildered young widow, and Mrs. Frank Martin was also a fine performer as the calm and collected daughter-in-law who helped solve all the problems.

Mrs. John Gastrock introduced the play in her role as chairman of the American Home Department. Quoting Prof. Henry A. Bowman of the Hogg Foundation, Mrs. Gastrock said "Mental health may be defined as the ability to function effectively and happily as a person in one's expected role in a group. His personality is integrated. He knows his own abilities and limitations, and is able to derive satisfaction from his contributions to society, either in his work or as a service."

During the social hour Mrs. Dyer served an attractive refreshment plate to the club members.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Stapp and Mrs. Nolan Langham, of Blue Ridge, attended the bedside of their sister, Mrs. Charlie Martin, who underwent surgery in Baylor Hospital, Dallas, recently.

A Patient's "Day" In City-County Hospital

By H. D. MOUZON

Last week an effort was made to describe surgical facilities available to the public at City-County Hospital and to point out the vast improvement in this department that will be provided in the new City-County Hospital now under construction in Northwest McKinney.

This week we will endeavor to follow a patient all the way through the hospital, from the time he is admitted by the business office until he is safely back in his bed following surgery.

Our imaginary patient is a man who is being admitted for a gall bladder operation, having previously been diagnosed and sent to the hospital by his personal physician.

The patient has arrived at the hospital and begins routine of being prepared for surgery.

Before being put to bed in hospital clothing the patient has signed a permit for operation and has been given a room.

A licensed vocational nurse comes in and takes his temperature, pulse, respiration, and blood pressure, all of which is reported to the head nurse who, in turn, calls the doctor in charge of the case to notify him that his patient has arrived. The doctor relays his orders that the patient is to be admitted for surgery at 8 a.m. the following morning.

Next, the nurse sends a request to the laboratory for a complete blood count, serology, and urinalysis and also type crossmatch in case the patient needs a transfusion.

A male attendant completes an upper-abdominal prep for surgery. By now its time for the evening meal and the patient is served food of a light liquid variety. Orders are sent to the dietary department that no breakfast will be served our patient. After this he is put to bed for the night, given a sleeping pill to insure rest, and water is removed from the room as he is allowed to take nothing further internally until after surgery.

About 7 o'clock next morning the nurse in charge of the floor gives the patient his pre-medication as ordered previously by the doctor, and, a half hour later, an operating room attendant arrives to wheel him to the operating room where he is received by the anesthetist and placed on the operating table. Here the anesthetist places a blood pressure cuff on his right arm and tapes on a stethoscope so that an accurate blood pressure reading can be had at all times during surgery.

A brief medical history is obtained from the patient while an intravenous fluid is started and the laboratory report and past history of the patient is checked by the anesthetist. While all this is being done the doctor has arrived and is preparing for the operation. Members of the operating team have been on the job for some time making ready to receive him.

With these steps out of the way, induction of anesthesia is produced by intravenous method and an airway is placed in the patient's throat to insure adequate room for breathing, a rubber mask connected to a machine by tubes, is placed over the patient's nose and mouth to furnish supplementary anesthetic agents during surgery.

General anesthesia is defined as a combination of available anesthetic agents to maintain as near as possible a physiological normal in a patient and at the same time, produce a sleep, relief of pain, and loss of memory to the patient undergoing surgical operation.

At this point the surgeon comes into the room and makes a final examination of the patient before he and his operating team, all clothed in sterile caps, gowns, gloves to insure complete sterility in the operating area, begin the operation.

After the patient is asleep the area of incision and the patient is draped for sterility so that only the area to be operated is exposed.

As the doctor goes through the operation the operating room nurse is there to hand him anything he requires. The circulating nurse is available to do whatever is needed such as moving the operating light, securing additional material, etc.

Approximately two hours later the operation is over, our patient is minus a gall bladder, and is returned to his room by the nurse anesthetist and operating room attendant where they are met by the registered nurse in charge of the floor and the patient is placed in her care.

Upstairs in surgery the operating room nurse and her assistants are busy cleanings up the area, sterilizing instruments and ready for the next patient, a job that requires some thirty minutes.

And in his room, our patient is gradually regaining complete consciousness and starting down the road to recovery, thanks to the skilled hands of the doctor, nurses and anesthetist.

Next week an effort will be made to better acquaint the public with the obstetrical department of the hospital.

Thanksgiving Services Set For November 28

McKinney ministers will again sponsor union Thanksgiving services here Thursday morning, November 28. The service will be held at the Church of the Nazarene, on Erwin Street, of which Rev. Fred Fike is pastor. He is also president of the Ministers' Association.

The program, to be announced later, is being arranged under the chairmanship of Dr. Charles Myers, pastor of the First Baptist Church. All church congregations are invited to join in this impressive service.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Tucker were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Tucker and family at Irving. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Rossi and family of Grand Prairie.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Driggers and family, R-1, Blue Ridge, and Mrs. Oscar Calhoun of Blue Ridge, visited Mrs. Ethel Driggers and Mrs. Geneva Rich, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Williams and son, Keith.

Louis Kincaid and Felix Smith, of the Turrentine-Jackson Funeral Home, were in Fort Worth this week attending the Morticians' Clinic.

In and Out of the Memorial Library

The children's room at the Memorial Public Library has been made very attractive with its painted shelves, table, chairs and bookcases. The appearance of the room is enhanced by the illustrations from such universal children's favorites as, Little Black Sambo, Robin Hood, Robinson Crusoe, Alice in Wonderland, Little Women and Pinnocchio. This creative art was done by some of the members of the McKinney Art Club.

The books in the children's room are arranged on the shelves from the easy books through the intermediate grades. Books of fairy tales, adventure stories, sports, biographies, Indians, games, nature, and many more are found here. There are also the series books such as the Hardy Boys, Judy Bolton, Nancy Drew, Lone Ranger, and others that are quite popular with the boys and girls.

Adequate and helpful reference material is provided for the children.

New books that have been added to the children's section recently include such titles as:

Dainty refreshments were served buffet from the large table, which was covered with a beige net tablecloth over a slightly deeper shade of taffeta with a wide ruffle extending to the floor. National Flu Toll Today Approaches 900

CHICAGO (UP). — The national influenza toll today approached 900, with the addition of 34 new flu deaths in Ohio.

The spurt of deaths reported in Ohio hiked the nation's count to 878 fatalities attributable to Asian flu, other types of influenza and complications of both illnesses since the Asian virus began its invasion last summer.

A United Press survey showed that New York led the nation with 134, followed by Georgia 124, Pennsylvania 110, Ohio 83, California 48, Louisiana 47, Michigan 46 and Minnesota 40.

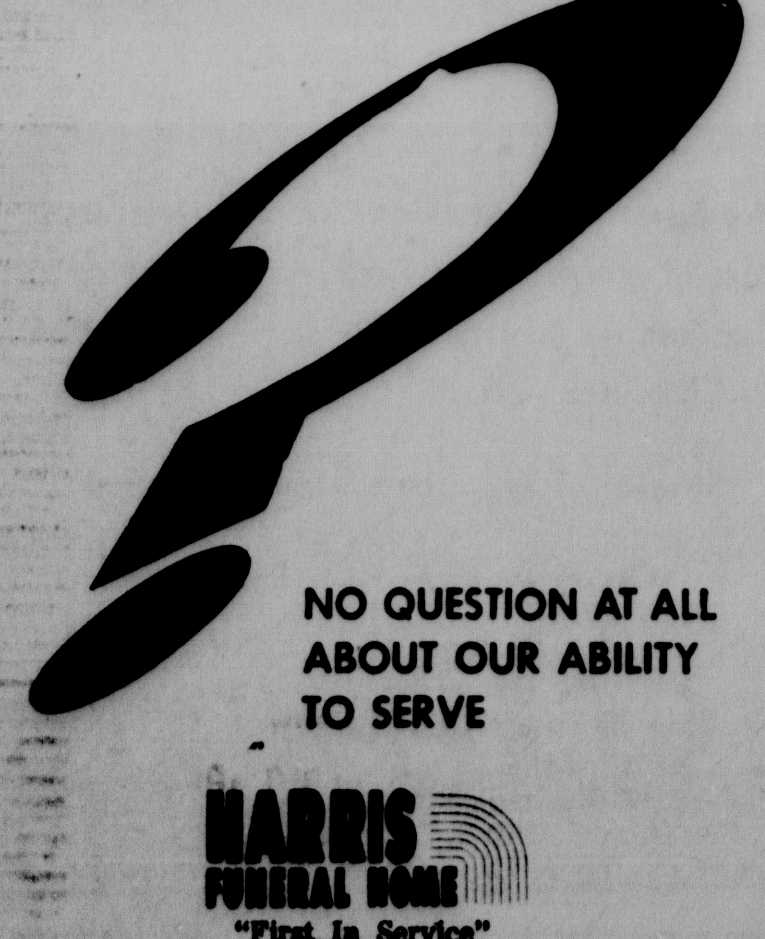

Only 15 states have reported no deaths attributable to flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Scott and family have moved into their beautiful new home on Finch Street.
